Comments: As written by Elsept Ford from Veronica Tudor-Williams 1976 book: "Tahzu was a proud upstanding dog, with long fine-boned legs, well set-on tail with a single loose curl. Straight in stifle, loaded in shoulder ... Fine velvety coat, dark almond eyes and a reasonable frown. Ears well set, and medium sized. Excellent movement with a long swinging stride; temperament first rate." Sire of first black and white Basenji in Western Hemisphere in his son, Eng. Ch. Taysenji Yoko.
